

EGLBS - CALL FOR PAPERS

FOR 2015 MEETING

(OPENS December 1, 2014)

The Eastern Great Lakes Biblical Society will hold its 2015 Annual Meeting on March 12-13 at the Mohican Lodge and Conference Center in Perrysville, OH.

A learned society of Biblical scholars sponsored in part by the American Schools of Oriental Research, the Catholic Biblical Association, & the Society of Biblical Literature, the EGLBS invites paper or poster-session proposals from members of any of these organizations, scholars in higher education, ministers, students (with a professor's nomination), and other interested parties.

Please note that EGLBS is not affiliated with the American Academy of Religion. While AAR members are welcome to participate in EGLBS meetings, paper proposals on topics unrelated to the Ancient Near East and/or the Bible and cognate literature ought to be directed elsewhere (e.g., to AAR Midwest or the Ohio Academy of Religion). See <https://www.aarweb.org/2015-regional-meetings> for more information.

Our plenary speaker will be Dr. Candida Moss from Notre Dame. (Paper title tba)

CALL FOR PAPERS OPENS December 15 2014

Paper proposals will be considered under the following categories. Select the category that best fits your paper topic and send the necessary information to the appropriate Convener(s) by electronic mail.

NB: In order to foster wider participation, individuals are limited to one presentation at the annual meeting. If you are making multiple proposals, make sure to inform the appropriate conveners and indicate which of the presentations you would prefer to give (since only one per person is permitted).

The deadline for receipt of paper proposals for the 2015 annual meeting (including any necessary supporting materials) is January 30, 2015 and you should receive a determination of acceptance by February 20, 2015, hopefully earlier.

PLEASE NOTE:

Anyone who wishes to submit proposals for inclusion in the annual meeting program must be registered for the annual meeting by the registration cutoff date of January 30, 2015. If your presentation does not get accepted onto the program, you may withdraw your meeting registration by sending a notice to the Annual Meeting Coordinator. Such requests received by March 1, 2015 will be eligible for a full refund.

PROPOSAL REQUIREMENTS FOR PAPERS

The paper or poster proposal should be in DOC, DOCX, or RTF format and must include:

1. Nature of the Presentation (Paper or Poster)
2. Presentation Title
3. Presenter's name, professional affiliation (e.g., university or church name), and status (undergrad, grad. student, Ph.D. candidate, faculty, pastor, etc.)
4. Contact information (e-mail address, daytime telephone)
5. Abstract (no more than 150 words)

NB: An excessively long abstract or failure to include one or more of these data may result in disqualification of your proposal.

6. Equipment needs.

-Paper sessions will be provided with a laptop, LCD projector, projection screen, and podium. Indicate any other equipment you will require or, if none, so state.

-If there are posters, most will be mounted on the walls of one of the meeting rooms. A limited number of display tables will be available. Indicate which type of display space you will require for your poster.

All proposals require the foregoing information. There are three contingencies which would require you to send the entire text of your presentation as well as the proposal itself:

1. This would be your first presentation at the EGLBS;
2. You are submitting to the "Miscellaneous" section; or
3. You are applying for either the Student Paper Prize or the SBL Regional scholar Award. (more information about these will be posted on the EGLBS page in the SBL Regional Meetings section of the website.)

NB: If you need to send your paper with the proposal, please save it in PDF format and preview the file to ensure that any foreign fonts, diagrams, tables, or other printer-dependent features will appear correctly in the attachment.

Sections

If your topic does not fit naturally into one of the following categories, please send the proposal as well as the entire presentation to Lawrenc7@canisius.edu (with EGLBS in the subject line) so the Coordinator can determine where it might best enhance the program.

ebbrooks@research.umass.edu

The general topic for 2015 is the Corinthian Correspondence. The session will be conducted as a seminar with papers and summaries distributed before the meeting.

New Testament

Scott S. Elliott, Ph.D.
Adrian College
selliott@adrian.edu

The New Testament section of the 2015 EGLBS Annual Meeting is planning two sessions. The first will be a session focused on the letters of Paul. We are particularly interested in papers that focus on Pauline epistolary research (i.e., research of the letters themselves: dating, composition, construction, textual reliability, authorship, form/structure, interpolation, conflation). The second session will be open, and we welcome proposals on all areas of New Testament research pertaining to materials (canonical and extra-canonical) other than those of the Pauline corpus.

Miscellany

Craig Tyson, Ph.D.
D'Youville College
tysonc@dyc.edu

Possible topics include:

- Biblical Pedagogy
- Comparative Literature of the Ancient Near East & Mediterranean World
- Non-Canonical Jewish & Christian Writings

This is also the program section to which to submit ideas for a special colloquium, panel discussion, or seminar you would like to arrange. If you are proposing a panel, be sure to include not only the panel title, abstract, and name of the moderator, but also the names and contact information for all the intended panelists.

Rhetoric of Religious Antiquity

Vernon Robbins, Ph.D.
Emory University
relvkr@emory.edu

Proposals that suggest ways of envisioning and presenting the "Rhetorical Force" of particular biblical-Jewish or early Christian texts as "Emergent Discourse" will be considered first. Other papers using a sociorhetorical approach to religious texts are welcome and will be considered as space is available.
