SBLPCR PROGRAM UNITS

EMERGING CRITICAL THEORY AND PERSPECTIVES

Chair: Kay Higuera Smith, Azusa Pacific University, kathrynsmith@apu.edu

The Emerging Critical Theory and Perspectives unit invites proposals for 20-minute papers employing postcolonial, decolonial, ideological, or gender criticism, critical race theory, or critical cultural studies in the examination of the Hebrew Bible, the New Testament, their ancient contexts, and contemporary or historical hermeneutics and ideology.

TEACHING BIBLICAL STUDIES: PEDAGOGICAL STRATEGIES, METHODS, AND RESOURCES

Co-Chairs: Carl Toney, Hope International University, cntoney@hiu.edu, and Christopher Heard, Pepperdine University, cheard@pepperdine.edu

This unit enhances teaching and learning in biblical studies. Presentations provide critical reflection on and practical strategies for biblical studies instruction. The unit considers proposals for 20-minute papers related to any aspect of biblical studies pedagogy, with preference given to presentations that provide participants with actionable tools and perspectives.

EXPANDING THE BOUNDARIES

Chair: Brad E. Kelle, Point Loma Nazarene University, bradkelle@pointloma.edu

The Expanding the Boundaries unit invites proposals for 20-minute papers that demonstrate biblical studies (Hebrew Bible or New Testament) in cross-disciplinary engagement. These engagements may be with disciplines of a wide variety and broadly construed.

HEBREW BIBLE

Co-Chairs: C. L. Crouch, Fuller Theological Seminary, clcrouch@fuller.edu, and Christopher Hays, Fuller Theological Seminary, hays@fuller.edu

The Hebrew Bible/Old Testament unit invites proposals for 20-minute papers focusing on any portion of the Hebrew Bible/Old Testament, interpretive methodology for its study, its historical and cultural contexts, its reception history, and other relevant studies.

THE BIBLE AND THE ANCIENT NEAR EAST

Chair: Tammi Schneider, Claremont Graduate University, tammi.schneider@cgu.edu

The Bible and the Ancient Near East unit invites proposals for 20-minute papers exploring points of contact between biblical texts and interpretation and ancient Near Eastern contexts. These points of contact may be historical, archaeological, literary, theological, social, or cultural.

NEW TESTAMENT GOSPELS AND ACTS

Chair: Rodolfo Estrada, Vanguard University, grammateis@gmail.com

The New Testament Gospels and Acts unit invites proposals dealing with topics in the areas of New Testament texts and traditions related to the Gospels and Acts.

NEW TESTAMENT EPISTLES AND APOCALYPSE

Chair: Kenneth L. Waters, Azusa Pacific University, kwaters@apu.edu

The New Testament Epistles and Apocalypse unit invites proposals that focus within a wide range of exegetical and hermeneutical issues elicited by the Pauline, Johannine, and General Epistles; the book of Hebrews, and the book of Revelation.

SBLPCR AWARDS

All award applicants must submit a completed paper to the SBLPCR Regional Coordinator, Brad E. Kelle (bradkelle@pointloma.edu), by the due date shown in the call for papers (January 15th). The regular Presentation Proposal Form (with paper abstract) should first be submitted to the appropriate unit chair by the call for papers deadline (October 1st). The paper must be accepted for presentation at the meeting in order to be considered for one of the awards.

An applicant may seek only one of the following awards during any given award year (the “award year” begins with the publication of the call for papers and ends with announcement of awards), and may submit only one paper for award consideration. All papers submitted for awards must be new, original work; a paper previously submitted for an award may not be resubmitted for either award.

Regional Scholar Nominee

Award: One prize of $400, plus nomination for a national SBL Regional Scholar Award.

Eligible Applicants: Any SBL member who has earned a doctoral degree within the past four years or is at the ABD stage of a doctoral program.

Application Procedure: Submit a completed paper to the SBLPCR Regional Coordinator, Brad E. Kelle (bradkelle@pointloma.edu), by the due date shown in the call for papers (January 15th). On your presentation proposal form (due by October 1st), indicate in the spaces provided that you wish to have the paper considered for a Regional Scholar Nominee designation. Also send a current CV—to the Regional Coordinator, Brad E. Kelle (bradkelle@pointloma.edu), by the due date shown in the call for papers (January 15th).

Student Essay Award

Award: One prize of $250.

Eligible Applicants: Any SBL student member.

Application Procedure: Submit a completed paper to the SBLPCR Regional Coordinator, Brad E. Kelle (bradkelle@pointloma.edu), by the due date shown in the call for papers (January 15th). On your presentation proposal form (due by October 1st), indicate in the spaces provided that you wish to have the paper considered for a Student Essay Award. Also send a current CV—to the Regional Coordinator, Brad E. Kelle (bradkelle@pointloma.edu), by the due date shown in the call for papers (January 15th).

Criteria for Evaluation

Applications for both awards are judged on the following criteria, with higher expectations for Regional Scholar Nominee applicants than for Student Award applicants.

- Presentation content
 - Clarity of expression and argumentation
 - Knowledge and critical use of scholarly resources and publications related to the topic
 - Use and knowledge of the primary sources related to the topic of the paper
 - Originality of ideas and solutions developed in the paper
- Presentation delivery
 - Clear articulation of argument advanced
 - Even and engaging delivery
 - Clear pronunciation and style appropriate to oral presentation
 - Creative use of materials that aid the presentation
