Reading the Bible in Ancient Traditions and Modern Editions Studies in Memory of Peter W. Flint

Andrew B. Perrin, Kyung S. Baek, and Daniel K. Falk, editors

A collection of essays commemorating the career contributions of Peter W. Flint

An international group of scholars specializing in various disciplines of biblical studies—Dead Sea Scrolls, Septuagint, Hebrew Bible/Old Testament, Second Temple Judaism, and Christian origins—present twenty-seven new contributions that commemorate the career of Peter W. Flint (1951–2016). Each essay interacts with and gives fresh insight into a field shaped by Professor Flint's life work. Part 1 explores the interplay between text-critical methods, the growth and formation of the Hebrew Scriptures, and the making of modern critical editions. Part 2 maps dynamics of scriptural interpretation and reception in ancient Jewish and Christian literatures of the Second Temple period.

Features:

- Essays that assess the state of the field and reflect on the methods, aims, and best practices for textual criticism and the making of modern critical text editions
- Demonstrations of how the processes of scriptural composition, transmission, and reception converge and may be studied together for mutual benefit
- Clarification of the state/forms of scripture in antiquity and how scripture was extended, rewritten, and recontextualized by ancient scribes and communities
